

Kayla Schneider - Communications - February 2019

February/March Goals

- Website: Jon Peterson is giving a lot of his time to help with them new website. We still have not reached Evan Baas about the domain, but Jon was able to get a the things we need taken care of done without Evan.
(In regards to above: Working on tracking down where our Domain name belongs so that we are able to change to a new website. I have reached out to Evan Baas who used to own it, but he has not contacted me back.)
- C-Name: We have secured our current emails and should have no problem with them appearing as spam.
- Elvanto: All of the groups from Flocknote have been moved and we have suspended our subscription to Flocknote. All of these groups are now set up in Elvanto. I have already seen an increased response to the emails I have sent out because they are personalized!
- Easter graphics and communication
- Continue to reach out to first time visitors through Facebook, email, or snail mail.
- March communication plans
- Graphics and social media for March
- Sunday Discipleship Videos
- Bradley Tech mission night - working with Maddy Schneider for February 27. This is a project that was going to get done in the Fall, but we were unable to. Maddy will come February 27 and share with those who attend the Servant's Heart night her heart and vision for Bradley Tech. That night, we will create care packages for the students to have during semester tests. Families and the congregation will be encouraged to bring supplies over the next month to support the students and teachers at Bradley Tech.
